

UFood To Expand To 10 Airports Thanks To Partnership With Hudson Group

Jamie Simon

June 03, 2010

UFood Restaurant Group Inc. and Hudson Group Retail LLC have signed a master license agreement for UFood Grill to expand to 10 U.S. airports.

There are UFood Grills at Boston Logan International (BOS) and Dallas/Fort Worth International (DFW), and the company recently entered into a franchise agreement for a location at Cleveland-Hopkins International (CLE).

"We are proud of our company's record of providing flavorful, healthful alternatives to diners, says George Naddaff, chairman and CEO of UFood Grill. "We are delighted to be associated with Hudson Group, a highly respected retailer that caters to travelers in airports and transportation terminals throughout North America. By signing this master license for 10 airport locations, we are ensuring our future success in airports."

UFood Grill offers healthy, low-fat dishes made with natural and organic ingredients, fresh produce, whole grains, and light cheeses and dressings. All menu items are baked, grilled or steamed, and nutritional information for each food item is accessible.

"Our market surveys have shown that travelers are concerned about maintaining their diet regimens, even in the hurried airport environment," says Joe DiDomizio, president and CEO of Hudson Group. "UFood's niche – providing healthful and flavorful dining alternatives throughout the day – is a great example of Hudson's ongoing service mission: being the traveler's best friend – in this case, by offering them a wide selection of healthful, great tasting eating options and treats like their fat-free fruit Smuuthies™ and UBerry, a tartly delicious non-fat soft serve yogurt."